RETURNS AND EXCHANGE AT YOUR EXPENSE

Items that are labeled, personalized, or customized in any way are not eligible for return or exchange. Certain items are not eligible for return or exchange as well, if noted on website. You can return or exchange all other unworn, unwashed or defective merchandise within 30 days of receipt. We will not accept any returns or exchanges after 30 days. Exchanges will be charged return shipping at the best rate. We will provide only store credit for returns. The store credit will be applied to your account once the items are received. Please check your order carefully. All products have a size chart, please make your selection carefully. Make sure label names are spelled correctly and all products are ordered in the proper size. We will provide only store credit for returns. Customer store credit will only remain valid for the current season (seasons end September 15th).

We will need your credit card information for any additional charges and return shipping charges.
